The Curious Little Bud

Conceptualised and narrated by Arin Banerjee

There was a big valley of flowers.
Many different variety of plants and flowers enjoyed the misty winds and golden sun.

They swayed, played and danced to the music of the chirping birds.

It was spring. The bushes were covered with flowers in full bloom. The Little Bud smiled.

But all was not well. The flowers looked sad and scared. There was a hush in the air.

Little Bud said, "Let's play and dance!"
But the other daisies said, "Hushh... We need to be careful."

Little Bud asked the Old Daisy,
"What is wrong? Why are you not enjoying the lovely weather? We have so many friends and family around.
But why do you all look sad?"

"Not everyone is a friend, Bud," Daisy replied. "There is danger around. There are creatures who can harm us. We need to be very careful."
